ALLARD WINS LAWMAKER OF MONTH ACCOLADES FROM SENIOR CITIZENS

Washington, D.C.—U.S. Senator Wayne Allard (R-CO) has earned a Lawmaker of the Month Award from the 60 Plus Association, a national senior citizens organization.

60 Plus, a 10-year-old nonpartisan group, honors Democrats and Republicans alike for their pro-senior initiatives. 60 Plus designated Senator Allard as a March recipient of the award.

60 Plus President Jim Martin said in a statement accompanying the award: "Senator Allard has been someone who senior citizens can count on. He has been a leader on so many senior citizen initiatives time and time again. The following are just a few reasons to honor Senator Allard: (1) supporting a prescription drug benefit for senior citizens; (2) voting to kill the death tax which hurts small business and farmers; (3) working to eliminate the tax on Social Security benefits; (4) supporting efforts to eliminate the tax on those receiving Social Security between the ages 65-69 and ages 62-64.

"It is a real pleasure to honor Senator Allard for the month of March with this "Lawmaker of the Month" recognition. Seniors can count on Senator Allard. He is a champion of senior rights and senior citizens not only in Colorado but all over the country are indebted to Senator Allard," Martin concluded.

Senator Allard has been a previous recipient of both the "Guardian of Senior Rights" Award for his pro-senior votes and also the "Benjamin Franklin" Award, which is given to those who champion the abolition of the death tax.

60 Plus has half a million members nation wide with 10, 203 in Colorado.
